Dyslexia Therapist Training Program

The Dyslexia Therapist Training Program is a two-year multisensory, structured language training curriculum for individuals who have already completed a 4-year degree and are interested in being Certified Academic Language Therapists.

This comprehensive program uses Take Flight: A Comprehensive Intervention for Students with Dyslexia (Take Flight), a two-year curriculum written by the staff of the Luke Waites Center for Dyslexia and Learning Disorders at Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children. Take Flight addresses the five components of effective reading instruction identified by the National Reading Panel’s research and is a comprehensive Tier III intervention for students with dyslexia ages 7 and up.

Dyslexia Center of Austin’s Dyslexia Therapist Training Program meets the International Dyslexia Association’s Knowledge and Practice Standards for Teachers of Reading, Texas licensure requirements, and criteria for membership in the Academic Language Therapy Association (ALTA). The Dyslexia Center of Austin is accredited by the International Multisensory Structured Language Education Council (IMSLEC).

Certification and Licensing

Graduates of the Dyslexia Therapist Training Program will receive a certificate of completion from the Dyslexia Center of Austin with the title of Dyslexia Therapist and be eligible to sit for the Alliance National Registration Exam administered by the Academic Language Therapy Association (ALTA) to become Certified Academic Language Therapists (CALTs). Graduates with advanced degrees in education and certain related fields may be eligible to apply to become a Licensed Dyslexia Therapist, as defined by Texas HB 461 (2009 Session of the Texas Legislature).

Program Overview

- Extensive knowledge of the characteristics of dyslexia and related disorders
- Understanding of the educational identification process for dyslexia
- Curriculum instruction using Take Flight
- Classroom strategies and techniques used for students with dyslexia
- Informational sessions for parents and teachers focusing on identification, accommodations, related disorders, and a Take Flight curriculum overview

Graduate-Level Instruction, Clinical Training, and Supervised Instruction in:

- Characteristics and educational identification of dyslexia
- Multisensory approach to teaching phonological awareness leading to sound/symbol correspondence for reading and spelling, including phonemic awareness, onset and rime, rhyme recognition and production, alliteration, segmentation, manipulation, blending, etc.
- Structured, intensive, phonetic approach to teaching reading, including phonemic awareness, decoding, sound/symbol relationships, reading automaticity, reading rate, prosody, orthographic patterns, syllable division, and morphology.
- A multisensory, process-oriented approach to teaching cognitive spelling which emphasizes phonemic awareness, sound/symbol relationship, orthographic patterns, spelling generalizations, spelling formulas for derivatives, and dictation skills.
- Multisensory approach to word relationships through grammar, morphology, semantics, and syntax
- Analysis and strategies used for comprehension in expository and narrative texts using metacognitive techniques
- Sequential multisensory strategies designed for academic success of students with dyslexia.

Graduate-Level Credit

Graduates may receive up to fifteen (15) hours of graduate-level credit toward a Master of Education degree in Special Education, Specializing in Dyslexia through MSU Texas in Wichita Falls, TX. For more information, please contact Mary Wines, Director of Master of Education in Special Education Specializing in Dyslexia. Email: mary.wines@msutexas.edu. Phone: 940-397-4855.

Demonstration Lessons

Ten demonstration lessons are required for certification, five (5) completed during the first year and five (5) completed in the second year. These lessons should be videotaped and sent along with your lesson plan, self-evaluation, and comments/question sheet in one package to the Dyslexia Therapist Training Staff.

A score of 85 or above is needed to pass. A demo with a score of 85 or below must be redone. Tapes must be received on or before the due date. For each day late, 1 point will be taken off the demonstration score. Please make arrangements with the staff if you are unable to get your tape in on time.

Attendance

Attendance is mandatory. Attendance requirements are based on the standards set forth by the accrediting organization. You MUST make arrangements in advance with the training staff for absence approval and procedures for making up the instruction. You will be responsible for videotaping the class or seminar and complete a full write up on the training content. If you do not obtain absence approval, you may be exited from the program.

Class Expectations

Please be aware that the Dyslexia Therapist Training is equivalent to fifteen (15) hours of graduate level coursework. During the Introductory Course and Advanced Course, trainees will receive homework assignments each day. Trainees will be expected to read 2-3 articles or chapters and write one (1) page reports summarizing each article or chapter. All reports are due the next morning. Throughout the first year of training, trainees will also be required to read five (5) books from an approved book list and write a one (1) page report on each book.

Extended Training

At the completion of all course work, if you have failed to meet the criteria of 700 clinical teaching hours, you will be required to continue supervised teaching and recording clinical teaching hours until this requirement is satisfied. If you have not received a score of 85 or higher in demonstration lessons, additional demonstrations may be required and attendance of additional seminars and lectures may also be required. Dyslexia Center of Austin reserves the right to charge trainees an additional fee in such circumstances. Progress will be monitored regularly until all requirements are completed.

Non-Discrimination Policy

Dyslexia Center of Austin does not and shall not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion (creed), gender, gender expression, age, national origin (ancestry), disability, marital status, sexual orientation, or military status, in any of its activities or operations. These activities include, but are not limited to, hiring and firing of staff, selection of volunteers and vendors, and provision of services. We are committed to providing an inclusive and welcoming environment for all members of our staff, clients, volunteers, subcontractors, vendors, and clients.

Accommodations

If any accommodations (under ADA) are needed for you to be successful in the two-year training program, you must submit them in writing with appropriate documentation at least 2 weeks prior to the beginning of the Introductory Course.
